A hotel rich in character.

The Wilden Mann.

The Wilden Mann is one of Lucerne's most tradition-steeped hotels. The first written evidence of its existence dates back to 1517. At the time it was a pub, later a tavern: certainly not a refined place. That all changed in the 19th century. Conversions, extensions and renovations were carried out – always with a subtle sense of the aesthetic and the essential. The Wilden Mann became a really top-class address. When the floor and woodwork creak under your soles, you can sense its long history.

Celebrate in style.

The venues.

Im Zöpfli: magnificent Baroque hall.

The historical Haus Im Zöpfli is situated just 200 metres from the Wilden Mann on the other side of the River Reuss. First mentioned in records dating back 400 years, it is almost as old as the Wilden Mann itself. Distinguished Lucerne artisans helped create the building, in particular the Baroque banquet hall: impressive stucco work, carvings, oil paintings and the view out onto the Reuss all help provide a superb setting for a celebration or an aperitif.

Lucerne Town Hall: celebrate like the Medici.

When Anton Isenmann built Lucerne Town Hall in the early 17th century, he modelled it on the architecture of the Italian Renaissance. To this day it remains one of Switzerland's most outstanding historical town halls. The magnificently ornate rooms provide the perfect backdrop for a range of different events.

Schauensee Castle, Kriens: celebrate in knightly style.

It stands proudly at the foot of Mount Pilatus: Schauensee Castle, with its spacious grounds. Originally built in the Late Middle Ages, it was renovated by the patrician Franz Joseph Leonz Meyer von Schauensee – who was careful to ensure its courtly air was preserved. Celebrate as once the knights did!

The neo-classical building itself is an outstanding specimen of historical architecture. Not to mention the unique collection of paintings and sculptures it houses. Hold a private function here and allow your guests to experience a world-famous museum.

Beat Studer: surrounded by antiques.

The Lucerne interior designer regularly makes his apartment available to guests from the Wilden Mann. They are usually very impressed. Countless excellently preserved antiques in beautiful art nouveau rooms create a unique atmosphere. If you wish, the owner can provide a guided tour of his collection in person.
